How does the Comfort Club work?

Accruing points

To accrue points, you must have set up an account with our distributors, or directly with us.

You may have up to 3 distributor accounts and 1 direct account.

The points on each account are treated separately and cannot be transferred to another account.

You start to accrue points from the 1st day of the month in which you joined Comfort Club under each distributor separately. For example; if you join a distributor in March you accrue points with them from March onwards. Adding a second distributor in April means you will accrue points with them from April.

Statements and Claims

Our Distributors will be handling your claims and statements on our behalf. If you have an account directly with Fujitsu, our Comfort Club administrator will handle these.

Once per month we send out statements to the distributors who, in turn, pass this information to you.

If you would like to claim points as vouchers, we have a claim form available on our website for members to download, fill out and sign. Once the form is completed simply send this in to your main contact at the distributor you are claiming the points under (or our administrator if you purchase your equipment with Fujitsu direct). Our website is shown in the link below;
